

Praise for Julius Zebra: Rumble with the Romans!

"This book is a very funny, page-turning adventure. . . . Simply pop it in your bag and take it anywhere . . . you won't want to put it down."
— The Guardian (U.K.)

"Have you ever imagined what the story of Spartacus would have been like if retold with a cast of talking animals? . . . Told in a mixture of prose and cartoon, the book has a very Horrible Histories sense of humor and grounds its silliness with facts about gladiatorial combat."
— Financial Times (U.K.)

"Cartoonist Gary Northfield gives a fresh take on all things Roman in this riotous romp. . . . Witty, ridiculous, and just plain good fun!"
— LoveReading4kids.co.uk

And the Love Reading kid reviews are in:

"I loved it because I am doing the Romans at school at the moment. . . . I liked all the funny bits, especially when the zebra was being chased by a lion."
— Emily Lonsdale, age 9

"This book is about a zebra called Julius, who gets caught by some Romans. . . . I also liked the illustrations and the way you have to read the speech bubbles to read the story."
— Alex Hall, age 9

"I like how the comic-style illustrations carry on the story rather than just being a 'picture on a page.' . . . It is a bit like Diary of a Wimpy Zebra!"
— Bethany, age 8

"Ten out of ten for Julius and his friends. This is the best book I have been sent so far! . . . This book was so full of excitement and suspense I could not put it down."
— Isaac East, age 8
